

PUBLIC POWER.

North Carolina Public Power illuminates the homes and workplaces of over 1.2 million people, that's a population larger than Charlotte and Raleigh

COMBINED

Public power brings value to North Carolina communities.

CREATING JOBS: Electricities is committed to strengthening public power communities by bringing new businesses that create new jobs.

LOCAL EMPLOYEES: Our public power employees go the extra mile because they live and work in your community.

FOCUSED ON YOU: Our business is focused on you and your neighbors. Everyone who lives in a public power community has a voice.

WORKING TOGETHER: Our public power communities are stronger when we work together. By sharing knowledge and lending each other a helping hand, we make sure your power is safe and reliable.

SAFE, RELIABLE POWER: Our public power communities experience fewer power outages—and get the power restored quicker when it does go out—when compared with larger utilities.

That's the power of 1.2 million. Together, we shine bright.
