Imperial Centre set to host ‘Whistle Down the Wind’

Rocky Mount, N.C. – The Imperial Centre for the Arts and Sciences is set to hold its Spring musical, “Whistle Down the Wind,” during six performances beginning Friday, March. 4. More than 30 community members will take part in the production, which is also features local directors.

Set in America’s Deep South in the late 1950s, the evocative musical fuses epic storytelling with compelling characters to create an unforgettable theatrical experience. Andrew Lloyd Webber’s emotive score combines hauntingly beautiful love songs and explosive rock music with lyrics by acclaimed Rock ’N’ Roll songwriter Jim Steinman. The score contrasts the relentless influence of the modern world with the traditional values of the old days – something which the community at the heart of ‘Whistle Down the Wind’ yearns to return to.

“We are excited about this Spring’s production,” Director Brooke Edwards said. “Our team has been working since the start of the year to bring our community six brilliant performances that we expect audiences to enjoy.”

Shows will take place at 7:30 p.m. on March 4-5 and March 11-12. The curtain drops at 2 p.m. on March 6 and March 13. Tickets are available by calling 252-974-1266 or visiting imperialcentre.org.
